BEHAVIOR GUIDELINES

We have designed rules based on promoting child safety and positive learning experiences. We strive on the behavior philosophy of Love and Logic. This philosophy enables the childcare providers and children to share control and decision-making while improving self-concept, behavior, and achievement for each child. It empowers children to learn from their mistakes and gain responsibility over their own choice. We have designed our rules at the children's developmental level. Our goal is to intervene and redirect to change the course of behavior before a rule may be broken. We believe in praising appropriate behavior and being positive role models.

We expect our students to display J-Town Pride, which is the model of Jordan Elementary's Safe, Respectful, and Responsible behavior.

When an inappropriate behavior occurs these are the steps that will be taken:

1. Children are given a warning.
2. Children are asked to take a break from the activity.
3. An email is composed to parents with the child to make them aware of the situation.
4. If behavior continues, a meeting is scheduled to determine a plan of action.

Early Ed-Ventures may not be suitable for all children. Prior to suspension or termination of care, our staff will ensure that all options have been exhausted.

I have read and understand the Early Ed-Ventures Behavior Guidelines above.
